

Monticello Central School District Video Conference Field Trips

A videoconference field trip or program gives you and your students an opportunity to visit a place you might not be able to otherwise, such as zoos, museums, NASA, U.S. Congress and more. Video conferences use an ISDN or IP connection, a camera, codec, and TV to connect to another site. There are two types of experiences. One is the video field trip and the other is a connection to another classroom anywhere in the world to work on a collaborative project, compare and analyze data, share projects, etc.
