Example of a Biography for the Hall of Distinction

Jeffrey A. Goodenough

Astronaut Jeffery A. Goodenough was born May 4, 1939, the second of four children born to John and Adelia Goodenough. He graduated from St. Mary's Grammar School in 1949 and Monticello High School in 1956. A graduate of Syracuse University with a BS degree, he went on to receive his Masters in Aerospace Engineering from Embry-Riddle Aeronautical University in Daytona Beach, Florida. He began in the NASA astronaut program in 1972 and was an original member of the first Apollo crew which circled the moon.

From 1965 through 1972, Jeffery A. Goodenough was a carrier pilot in the United States Naval Air Force. During his tenure in the service, he was a two-time recipient of the Navy Cross and has shared his Vietnam experiences on a number of occasions with the students of Monticello High School.

Astronaut Goodenough expressed tremendous pride in his Monticello roots. The community was fortunate indeed to have another of its native sons return home after his retirement from NASA that fostered his ideals. His interest in flying, originating during Vietnam remained a constant. He had three sons, two of whom are members of the area medical community and one who is an accomplished artist.
